

79 Community Organisations

directly engaged with our work helping to grow our research and inform how Co(l)laboratory develops.

56 Academic Supervisors

Academic Supervisors

from Nottingham Trent University and University of Nottingham working with us.

28 Community Research Projects

Community Research Projects

co-created by community organisations and academics. Funded by Co(l)laboratory.

Community Engaged Researcher Training

developed exclusively to help our research candidates become future community problem solvers.

10 UK Higher Education Institutions

have engaged with us directly to learn more about the Co(l)lab model.

Research Project Co-Creation Activities

and resources have enabled more community-researcher teams to create locally relevant projects.

Bespoke Applicant Support

initiatives developed to enable more diverse applicants to showcase their potential.

17 Community Priority Themes

identified by Notts communities to shape our research.

28 Research Candidates

recruited from Nottinghamshire and surrounding areas.

16 Specialist Subject Areas

being explored by our research projects, including healthcare, environment, psychology and more.

Inclusive Recruitment Practices

Based on a competency framework, enabling more diverse candidates to apply.

190 Candidate Applications

submitted over 2 cohorts of PhD and Research Placement projects

