Details to Support Candidate Recruitment

This section asks for details which would be used by the Co(l)laboratory team to create a project advert, if your proposal were to be successful.

As part of Collaboratory's work to create more inclusive and accessible routes into doctoral research, all our PhD and Research Placement opportunities are advertised in a typical job advert-style format. This will include a list of essential and desired competencies, plus a reading list. This enables high quality candidates to better identify their suitability for any given research project.

- Project-specific competencies should be those which the ideal candidate should possess that will enable them to rise to the challenges of the research project.
- Essential and desirable competency lists must NOT require candidates to already possess knowledge or experience of specific research technique or methodologies that they would reasonably be able to learn in the role.

For details of the core competencies used in our recruitment, and examples of project-specific essential and desired competencies, please see proposal guidance.

11. Project-Specific Essential Competencies

Please detail up to 6 competencies based on transferable skills, knowledge and experience that both community and academic members of the named supervisory team feel would be essential for a candidate to possess in order to be successful on this project. Essential competencies should include broader skills and experiences which applicants could provide evidence against in a variety of ways. Essential competencies must NOT require direct previous experience of academic research.

*Please see proposal guidance for links to previous examples of project adverts. **

12. Project-Specific Desirable Competencies

Please detail up to 6 desirable competencies based on transferable skills, knowledge and experience that both community and academic members of the named supervisory team feel would be desirable for a successful candidate to possess. Desirable competencies may include more nuanced skills or experience that would give the candidate an advantage in the role, but which are not crucial to the success of the project.

*Please see proposal guidance for links to previous examples of project adverts. **

13. Recommended Reading List

*Please provide a list of up to 10 sources which would enable prospective candidates to obtain a moderately more in-depth understanding of some of the core elements that underpin this project.
